

How Do I Pay For This?:

Creative Financing Strategies; Engaging Financial Institutions; Creating Public-Private Partnerships

Mark Begich
Mayor of Anchorage

Presented to the National Climate Protection
Summit: Accelerating Local Leadership
Seattle, Washington – November 1-2 2007

Alaska is Ground Zero for Global Warming

- Melting ice, glaciers, and permafrost
- Animals
- Wetlands and forests
- Weather and storms
- People and culture

Getting Started – Funding the Start-Up Program

- Small portion of the revenues from Anchorage Landfill fund the Renewable Resources program.
- Leverage results through grants to community groups.

Starting Small to Raise Awareness and Buy-In

- LED lights in Town Square Park.
- Traction glass for the railroad.
- Cardboard recycling for businesses
- Putting MOA monitors to sleep.

Creating a Model – Starting with Public Buildings

- Intervening early to build LEED projects.
- The new Dena'ina Convention Center will be a model of energy efficiency
- Retrofit Anchorage's "Project 80s" buildings to increase energy efficiency

New Partnerships – Bigger Projects

POWERSMART

- Municipal Utility Efficiency Program
- LED Street Lights
- Efficiency Program for Businesses
- Regional Wind Project

Thank you
